

plethora of similar innovations. These changes and others like them would complement the new facility and enhance citizen enjoyment of the library facility. A dynamic town, a growing population, an expanding commerce and an informed citizenry all demand a more intensive, vital and complete library than Star has at the present time. The leaders should view their Town's library as an important aspect of Star's image and a measure of its quality.